

Hamilton's June 18 notes	Cover Letter
Importance of the occasion	present occasion
the public mind	deeply impressed on our minds
complete sovereignty	independent sovereignty to each
Its practicability to be examined; if not impracticable	it is obviously impracticable
local circumstances	situation and circumstance
Entrusts the great interests of the nation	the greatest interest of every true American
habitual sense of obligation	habits
Particular & general interests	particular interests
necessity	necessity of a different organization.
necessary consequence	the consequences
powers too great must be given to a single branch; Entrusts the great interests of the nation to hands incapable of managing them	the impropriety of delegating such extensive trust to one body of men is evident — Hence results the necessity of a different organization.
hopes and fears	we hope and believe will sacrifice	the magnitude of the sacrifice
true interest and glory of the people	every true American
secure the union	secure all rights
the objects of the general government; the means will not be equal to the object	the object to be obtained
The forming a new government to pervade the whole with decisive powers in short with complete sovereignty; power (13x); peace (3x); war (5); treaty (2x); money (3x); commerce (4x)	power of making war, peace, and treaties, that of levying money and regulating commerce
Each principle ought to exist in full force , or it will not answer its end	should be fully and effectually vested
the state must be well managed or the public prosperity must be the victim	our prosperity
As of June 18, the important compromises had not yet been reached.	spirit of amity, and of that mutual deference and concession
